

Learn How to Research Your Historic Property: March 3, 2022

News Release Date

03-03-2022

Researching the history of your property can be a rewarding experience. Getting started, however, can seem overwhelming. It requires an understanding of the basic methods of historical research. Knowing where resources can be found and how to interpret them is a fundamental part of the process. Join Chester County, PA archivists for a presentation about how to begin your research and where to locate relevant records.

For tickets and more information about this March 3, 2022 event, visit the Chester County History Center